LEPTON HALL

Come to Oglethorpe for Non-Credit Courses

Welcome to Theatrical Outfit. Who else would have the audacity to put the American Revolution, Czarist Russia and 5th Century B.C. Greece, all under one roof? And that's just part of our remarkable series of upcoming plays for next season.

But that's what you've come to expect from us. Because no one puts on a production quite like us. We'll take you through everything from comedy to tragedy, nonsense to the hypersensitive, in a collection of plays so diverse that the only thing we can truly say that applies to all of them is...see them!

SYNOPSIS OF PLAYS

---

September 14 — October 16

Of Mice and Men by John Steinbeck. A modern American classic that tells the tremendously moving story of two roving farmhands in the early 1930s.

November 2 — December 4

The Lion in Winter by James Goldman. A medieval comedy. King Henry has had three sons by Eleanor. They all want to rule. Henry favors the youngest, Eleanor the oldest, while the one in the middle plays both ends against each other. Henry would like to have another heir by his mistress but that would only add to the contenders.

January 11 — February 12

Tom Paine by Paul Foster. If you enjoyed Elizabeth I (1570) then you'll love Tom Paine (1776). Both plays were written by Paul Foster, who has a great sense of theatrical ensemble and historical comedy. Don't miss it!

March 8 — April 8

Rasputin by Robert Donnan. An original play developed in collaboration with Theatrical Outfit. Rasputin is a truly astounding look into the mind of one of history's most enigmatic characters. The time is 1910, the place is the Russian court. While revolution brews in the streets, the royal blood is literally seeping from the veins of the Czar's hemophiliac son. Rasputin's seizure of power coupled with his irresistible personal charisma earned him the nickname of the Holy Devil.

May 16 — June 17

The Frogs by Aristophanes. Every other year we produce a timeless Greek Classic. This year it's Aristophanes' comedy The Frogs. This will be a dazzling spectacle of music, mask, dance and mime all woven together in a Japanese Kabuki style.

Theatrical Outfit reserves the right to substitute plays, players, and performances if necessary.

CRITICAL ACCLAIM

---

"This smallish troupe offers some of the best theater in town."

"Elizabeth I, an hysterical, historical comedy."

"Crime on Goat Island is astounding theater that will repel you and attract you at the same time. Strong stuff, fine acting, superb directing."

Helen Smith
The Atlanta Constitution

"It is a very important move to have Theatrical Outfit right in the heart of the Peachtree Walk district."

Dan Sweat
President of Central Atlanta Progress

---

MAKE AN EVENING OF IT

---

There are lots of fine restaurants and night spots within just a short distance of Theatrical Outfit, including Cha-Gio, the Country Place at Colony Square, Cashins In-Town Bar, Rousseau's, Gregory's, and Gabriel's.

Also, there's plenty of free and moderately-priced parking nearby, including a parking lot next to our building, and convenient access to the Midtown MARTA Station.

DIRECTOR'S NOTES

---

Assembling a balanced season of plays is probably the most exciting part of my job, and I find that the growing excitement over next year's season is becoming contagious. Several weeks ago when this contagion began I was convinced that it was all because of the five playwrights whose work had been assembled in perfect harmony under the roof of Theatrical Outfit (three comedies, two dramas, all very well written and linked by a common denominator of historical interest).

But eventually, as we all know, the truth will out. So the playwrights and I have taken a small side step to acknowledge the fact that, after all, the price is also very right!

Please plan to join us next year for a full season of remarkable theatre. I think you'll be glad you did.

Astound Yourself!

Sincerely,

David Head
Producing Director, Theatrical Outfit
